

Announcements - Feature Overview

Last Modified on 25/01/2023 1:25 pm GMT

Overview

The Announcements feature is a new in-product communication platform that will allow RLDatix to inform you of important product changes and share useful features.

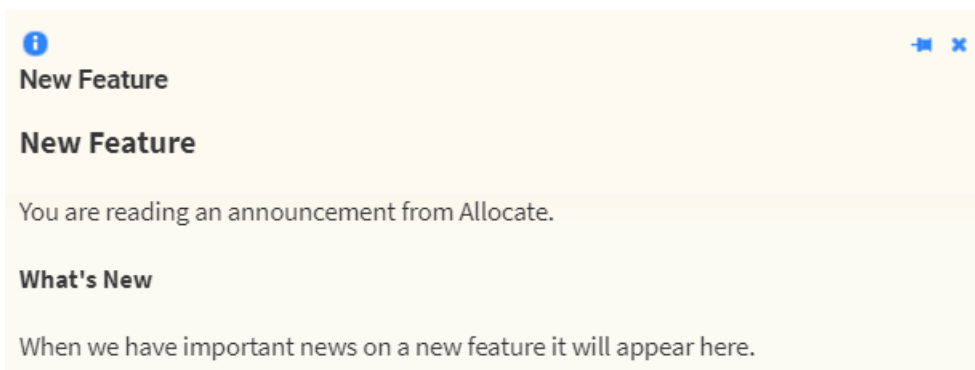

Upon logging in, announcement messages will be displayed based on a user's Access Role permissions. These messages may describe new features within the product, upcoming updates or important changes that affect your organisation. Announcement messages can be closed or dismissed to be read later when next logging in.

This feature will be solely controlled by RLDatix administrators and cannot be customised by individual organisations.

How it works

1. Login to Assure Expenses.
2. If applicable, one or more announcement messages will be displayed.

Note: You will be unable to browse Assure Expenses until you select Read Later or Close.

- Click one of the following to return to the home page:

Action	Description
Read Later	Click to dismiss the message and return to the home page. The message will display again next time you log in.

Action	Description
Close	Click to exit the message and return to the home page. The message will not be displayed again.
