Date: 29/09/21
Version: 2021.9.28.6

Bug Fixes

- We've done some minor security updates to logon messages, email templates and access roles to prevent any issues that could possibly arise from cross-site scripting. (178746),(178769),(178734)

- We've updated the alignment of the tooltip when choosing and editing an employee's vehicle in the "Employees" section, which was previously too low in Chrome and too high in IE11. (77888)

- We've updated the user-defined tailoring options to fix some minor grammatical issues. Previously the options referred to "Userdefined Groups" rather than "User Defined Groups". (163298)

- We've updated the description for the audit log menu to better describe the function of the audit log. (49857)

- We've updated the description of the "Access Role List" to better describe the purpose of the report. Previously, the description referred to allowances and it read "A list of all allowances within the system". Now it reads "A list of all access roles within the system". (61713)

- We've updated the user-defined tailoring options in both Expenses and Framework to fix some minor grammatical issues. Previously the options referred to "userdefined" fields, groups, or ordering rather than "User Defined" fields, groups, or ordering. (83404)

- We've updated the bank account field tooltips to make sure they reflect what the bank account fields are for, and in some instances to provide more detail. (78644)

- We've updated both the field label and the tooltip for enabling when the vehicle is regarded as being active, in order to make the function of the option clearer for the administrator. (112932)

- We've updated the field labels describing each of the options that can be enabled for home to office distance deductions, such as "home", "office", "distance" and "journey", when creating an expense item for mileage. They are now displayed with a consistent text case and word capitalisation. (70320)

- We've updated the validation messages that display when adding a vehicle to fix some minor grammatical issues and to ensure they follow current page display standards. (110742)

- We've updated the validation messages that are displayed when entering a contract cancellation or review period date to reflect the name of the field on the page to which they are being compared (contract "End Date"). This makes it easier for the user to understand the message that is displayed and correct their data entry error. (87182)

- We've updated standard (unchanged) email templates for notifications of adding a vehicle and activating a vehicle to correct some minor grammatical issues. (97925)

- We've updated the API documentation to correct a few text errors. For example, previously the word existing appeared as "exsiting" and the word address appeared as "adress" in some parts of the documentation. (66502)
